Messrs. Goyelin and Rowan,

After your obvious concern on the Agronsky & Co. show aired tonight, it seemed to me you might find some interest, if not relevance, in the enclosures on Andreas and Howard Hunt, under one of his pen names, from Contemporary authors.

The inference if not the fact of special interest in Nixon's re-election may be suggested by this part of the Andreas past.

And with Hunt - what was a CIA man doing working for a literary agency? That is what Littauer and Wilkinson were. He claims to have been their agent. Oh, well, maybe that was a bit cleaner than the McCoy ploy recently reported.

I don't know what happened to the New York indictment. I do seem to recall that Mr. Morgenthau was not very well liked in the Department of Justice after Mr. Humphrey didn't make it.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
